Baseball Si; Softball, No;

East County teams have ups and downs in CIF

by Greg Eichelberger with Marv Rosen

While not doing well in softball, the 1998 CIF baseball playoffs are showing why the Grossmont League (plus Christian) is considered the best in the county.

In the finals, the area just missed having teams in the finals of all three divisions, and is guaranteed that it will hold on to its Div. I title during the finals scheduled at SDSU's Tony Gwynn Stadium on Saturday.

Defending Div. III champs Christian was eliminated in the semis by Bishop's whom the Patriots had beaten the previous two years when it advanced to the finals.

Following yesterday's semifinal action, Div. I will match two Grossmont league teams with defending Div. I title holder Grossmont from the North battling the South's Granite Hills.

In Saturday's game, Grossmont staged a come-from-behind win as it scored two runs in the seventh inning after Rancho Bernardo had scored once in the top of the inning in which all the scoring took place. Foothillers catcher Beau Craig drove in the winning run with one out to cap the rally.

In the other half of the division, unseeded Granite Hills overcame a first inning homerun by Vista to advance with a solid, 3-1, victory.

Meanwhile, in Div. II, fourth-seeded Monte Vista took the top-seeded Montgomery apart to win by a 7-1 margin and advance to the finals against University of San Diego High which edged Saint Augustine, 3-2.

The surprising Monte Vista squad, which finished at 21-9-1, rode the pitching of Rose Ring, a homerun by David Lutz and a triple by Tobias Herrera to advance to the finals.

On the distaff side in softball, all the East County teams have been eliminated as defending Div. II champs Monte Vista was upset by Escondido in the quarterfinals, 5-4.

Grossmont gave second-seeded Scripps Ranch a tussle, losing by a 1-0 score in the quarterfinals. Third-seeded Christian, which made it into the Div. IV semis, was absolutely crushed by second-seeded Horizon Christian, 15-0.

East County cemented its top of the hill claim in baseball, as area teams won all seven opening-round games and four quarter-final contests.

In those earlier baseball games, if it weren't for Granite Hills and Helix facing each other in the quarters (GH won), the East County record would have been even more impressive.

As it was, only Helix, Santana (losing 12-7 to Saint Augustine) and El Capitan (defeated by Vista, 4-1) failed to make to make it past the second round.

Grossmont (25-6), earned its way into the semis with wins over Mira Mesa (6-2) and La Costa Canyon (12-1).

The latter tussle was a rematch of last year's title game in which the Foothillers eeked out a 5-3, come-from-behind, triumph.

With Craig belting a 400-foot, two-run homer in the fifth (he collected one against Mira Mesa, too), Matt Benoit also reaching the seats and Grossmont scoring seven runs in the sixth, this year's much-anticipated battle was stopped because of the dreaded "10-Run Rule."

Granite Hills (25-6), coached by the legendary Gordy Thompson, and once ranked in the national top 10 this sea-

Wildlife refuge needs more support

South San Diego Bay was once the home of much wildlife like osprey, halibut, mussels, lobsters and whales. With time and pollution these species deteriorated or became scarce because of negligence and pollution caused by humans. All habitats left in the south San Diego Bay are at risk and will disappear if they are not protected. As neighbors we can help preserve what is left of the San Diego Bay by supporting the wildlife refuge.

This refuge will protect nearly 5,000 acres of the shallow water, mudflats and marshes that is left in the San Diego Bay. The wildlife refuge will also protect migrating waterbirds and 562 species of animals, plants, invertebrates and eight federally protected species, it will enhance important juvenile fish nursery and spawning areas and protect 90 percent of remaining eelgrass beds.

San Diego has over 480 bird species which are a natural treasure for natives of San Diego and other cities to enjoy and treasure. Supporting the wildlife refuge can help preserve what is left of the south San Diego Bay and its species. By protecting this habitat, we can preserve natures beauty and wildlife for our future generations to enjoy.

The South San Diego National Wildlife Refuge should not be ignored or overlooked. Please support the Refuge.

School board full of mistaken identities

We enjoy your newspaper. I am writing in response to the front-page article regarding the Grossmont school board race ["The Men Who Would Be Nadia," May 14 issue]. You are mistaken to believe that the problem in GUHSD is a matter of personalities. There is a small, vocal group of extremists who are attacking public education and the civil rights of ordinary citizens.

A salient example of this is the stifling of public input during board meeting including burly security guards throwing out orderly citizens. This group of "Christians" is associated with an extreme anti-abortion and anti-gay agenda.

East County is politically conservative in the traditional sense. These right-wing radicals are by no means truly conservative, or for that matter Christian, and they do not represent most of the community. The genius of our U.S. Constitution is that it prevents a tyranny of the majority.

Grossmont College adds three new ROP classes

For tuition-free classes to build a new career or gain new job skills, look no further than the Regional Occupational Program. ROP is part of the public school system and offers vocational and technical skills, career counseling and placement instruction to anyone 16 and older through high schools and community colleges across the county. Participants learn the latest in job skills from credentialed instructors and use up-to-date equipment.

Grossmont College has three new ROP classes for the 1998 summer session.

For those interested in publishing, the new tuition-free, hands-on training, in "Computer Layout and Design Production" will be offered from Monday through July 31. This 8-week course meets from 5:30 - 9:10 p.m., Monday and Wednesday. The survey course will include use of Adobe Pagemaker, Illustrator and Windows 95. Students will be producing a special summer edition of the school newspaper.

Grossmont's Culinary Arts Department is offering the new "Fine Dining/Advanced Food Preparation" beginning June 9, from 3 - 8 p.m., on Tuesday and from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. Wednesday in the college cafeteria. The 8-week, tuition-free, class covers techniques in preparing food for fine restaurants and offers experience working with executive chefs, Joe Orate and Larry Barnares in a restaurant situation.

Security officer training is another new addition at Grossmont College, with the first session of the Security Academy meeting from Monday through July 17. The training covers a guard card, baton, chemical weapons, CPR and first aid and firearms. The course meets California Bureau of Security and Investigative Services requirements for guard licensing, baton and initial firearms certification or requalification. The six-week class meets from 6 - 9:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday and from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. on two Sundays. The training is tuition free, but costs may include ammunition, targets and state licensing fees.

Other ROP training available at Grossmont College includes computer layout and design, emergency dispatching and continuing education for insurance professionals. Courses in health professions include telemetry technician, occupational therapy assistant, orthopedic technician, medical office management and medical coding. Culinary arts courses include buffet and catering, baking/pastry, soups and sauces and others.

To register for ROP courses at Grossmont College, call 644-7550.

East County senior softball thanks Bob Gilman

by Betty McMillen

Senior Softball is alive and well in East County, thanks in many ways to Bob Gilman of El Cajon.

On May 12, members from the Men's Senior Softball League gathered for a barbecue lunch at Don Wall's house in El Cajon.

The purpose was to pay tribute to Gilman, a longtime team member and organizer of the league. who was honored with an appreciation plaque for his efforts above and beyond the call of duty.

"We're honoring Gilman for his humanitarian efforts for the league," said Bob Smith, manager of the Al Sports team. "He's interested in the well-being of our people."

The El Cajon Senior Softball League got it's start in 1984 with Gilman at the helm. At first, it struggled to have enough members to field one team. Gradually, with Gilman's guiding hands it built up to 60 players.

Currently, the teams play at El Cajon Wells Park and Kennedy Park, Santee, La Mesa, North County, Chula Vista and Pacific Beach. El Cajon's teams are fully sponsored by El Cajon merchants.

Members must be at least 55 years of age to play, but there is a variety of age groups represented ... some up in their mid-80s.

They laugh and kid around, having a good time just being able to play the game they love so much.

Most of the team members have played ball since their youth, never wanting to give it up.

Experience shows in the sharp way they field the ball, make the plays and round those bases ... they acknowledge they're not as quick as they were in the good ole' days, but they're lovin' every minute of the game.

Don Wall said that one of the greatest things about the league is the camaraderie of the men.

After every game, the teams gather for a barbecue lunch. This gives them the opportunity to recap the highlights and laugh at their mistakes.

Larry Blakenship, who turned 75 this year, plays six days a week. He laughed, "I want to do it before I get really old."

They fondly remembered their former league players, Bill Roberts, Tom Fouter and Jack Tussy, who died on the field during a game. Their memorial services were held on the field with their teammates in game uniform.

Most of the fellas agreed that that's how they would want to go, too.

Weldon Cochrane said he plays three times a week, but with a sly grin and a twinkle in his eye, he added "I have to keep one day open for funerals."

Everyone burst out laughing.

LIVE! Beat with Greg Eichelberger

It's spring and a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love, like love of the CIF playoffs, of course. Now I'm not trying to rile anyone, and I certainly mean no offense, but while post-season activity is almost over in practically all of the warm weather sports, the only ones that really matter are baseball and softball.

Not that other athletes don't work harder, it's just that as far as viewer interest is concerned, these are the only two real "draws" at this time of year.

Now take, for instance, tennis, which probably had some pretty good contests, with Dan Seely (Granite Hills) defeating Mike Chan of Valhalla, 6-2, 6-0; Norseman Jake Moya whipping teammate Tyler Johnson, 6-4, 6-3; and El Capitan's Brandon Fritz stopping Ryan Mosse of Grossmont, 6-2, 6-0, among others. Lots of action? Sure. But most likely not a whole lot of patrons in the stands.

Then there's diving, gymnastics, swimming and volleyball. All have their particular followers, but none sufficient to peak the interest of the average Joe Naiman.

First of all, diving, swimming and volleyball are not sports. Any activity that one can engage in while in one's backyard does not qualify.

Gymnastics, on the other hand, takes skill, coordination and grace (something that is not necessarily privy to the other three), and it's fans can be pretty involved. But, since they do not allow flash photography while covering it, I have to give it my stamp of disapproval.

Finally, there is the strangest post-season tournament of all, the Ninth Annual Grossmont Unified School District Powerlifting Competition, held at Monte Vista High. If there's one thing worse than weight lifting, it's watching someone else do it.

Not to denigrate the athletes who take part in this exhibition, but I can't imagine anything more boring that this. Weight lifting is something to do in the privacy of your garage or basement, not in front of 50 or more people.

That brings us around full circle to baseball, with three East County teams in the finals, and softball, with none.

Who wouldn't want to spend a cool early summer evening watching someone hit a homerun than sitting in a humid gym viewing a volleyball game or a bench pressing display?

That's my 2-cents worth, what's yours? To let me know, just call 390-7103 (or E-mail ikeforum@juno.com) and I'll put your views in this column, providing there is enough space. Until then, have a great week.

son, knocked off Rancho Buena Vista, 5-2, and Helix, 16-1.

The Eagles rode the pitching of Mike Wilson (five hits, 11 strikeouts) to victory against RBV and the hitting of first baseman Derek Ayres (3-4, with a triple and three RBI), Chris Dunwell (a three-run homer) and Brett Williams (three RBI) en route to the laugher over the Highlanders.

In earlier rounds, the team crushed Ramona, 11-1, and Hilltop, 3-1.

Finally, Christian High, which claimed the Division III crown last year, went 21-7 this season and edged Calvin Christian, 2-0, last Tuesday, then came back to blast Midway Baptist, 10-0, thanks to Jon Cox's three-hit, four strikeout whitewash pitching before its semifinal loss.

East County athletes did quite well in the sectional track finals on Saturday as Raymond Wells swept both hurdles (highs, 14.45 and lows, 38.83 seconds) and the Granite Hills' Dan Herman, had three long jumps over 23 feet (23'11" best).

In the discus and shotput, Ames of Granite Hills took first and second respectively.

For girls, Valhalla won the 4x400 m. relay (3.54.98) and anchor runner, Bravin, also took the 800 m. (2:16:19).

Helix's Courtney Baird just missed the five-minute mark in winning the 1,600 m. in 5:01:71 and Mount Miguel's Kameelah Allen took the 100 m. in 12.40.

The best in East County Div. II diving was a second place by El Cajon Valley's Josh Goode. In Div. I girls, Deninger (Granite Hills) lost out by only 10 points for another second place finish.

In boys volleyball, Santana, which had advanced to the final with a win over Monte Vista, lost to Grossmont City in the final of Div. II.

In Div. III, Christian was swept, 3-0, by the powerful Francis Parker team.

In tennis, Div. II El Cajon Valley lost in the semifinals to UC by a 12-6 score. Powell beat Valhalla, 11-7, in the semis, eliminating the last East County team.

Local teams shine at Top Gun Tournament

by Michael Krawczak

The most recent competition for youth soccer teams was the Top Gun Tournament in Mira Mesa over Memorial Day weekend, where several local teams stood out.

The Santee Rebels captured the Div. 2 Boys title with a 2-1 victory over Mission Viejo. This followed another 2-1 win in the semifinal against Spring Valley.

Through four pool games, the Rebels were almost perfect, shutting out their opponents in each game, totaling 37 out of a possible 40 points.

Goalkeeper Nick Ashworth had an outstanding tournament. The team played great, with excellent passing and communication.

The Clash took the Div. 4 Girls championship home to El Cajon with a 3-1 win over Huntington Beach.

In the semifinal against Mission Viejo, the Clash prevailed 4-2. Meghan Hartnett was El Cajon's top scorer, followed by Katie McCoy.]

Goalkeepers Gloryann Kennison and Jamie Hill were key players as the Clash went undefeated in pool play.

Coach Gilbert Meza singled out defenders Saran Johnson and Monica Meza, and midfielders Lori Winchell and Courtney Fougeron.

"To beat six L.A. teams is unheard of," declared a proud Meza.

The Div. 4 Boys Santee Waldos were undefeated, but lost to San Pedro, 6-1.

The Waldos defeated Bonita, 7-4, in the semifinal. The team played well on defense, with goalkeeper Brad Reese doing a good job.

Ricky Garcia led Santee scorers with seven goals, including four in one game. Brian Dunne scored six, Stephen Nager added three goals and Ryan Bartholomew, Kyle Stilwell and Zach Shepard notched two goals each. Anthony Fortini rounded out the Waldos' scoring with a goal from 25 yards out on a free kick.

In a very evenly played final, the Div. 5 Boys Santee Sting was edged by Riverside, 2-1. This followed a triple-overtime, 2-1, semifinal victory over Diamond Bar.

In this unusual tie-breaking format, following the first traditional overtime period, goalkeepers were removed from the field.

When the score remained tied, the teams played 7-on-7 with no goalkeepers. Nick Curl scored on a cross from Kamy Ahmadian to win it for the Sting.

"This was the best I've ever seen them play," said Sting Coach Rob Wojtach. "There was perfect execution and they did not quit."
